

The Bouschor Keepers

You can't have a greater puppet than one with an ego the size of Donald Trump's. This must be what the "Core Families" saw in Benard Booschor.

As long as he obeyed, he could run the show.

He understood, early on, that you take care of the ones that keep you in office.

If someone's family member needed education money..he saw to it. ...Cathy Abramson can attest to that. If there was a position that a friend or relative wanted, he saw to.....Cathy Abrason can attest to that

If a family member needed more income, despite a wage freeze, he would sign off on it.

He fulfilled the wants and wishes of the "core families" and in return, he was allowed to carry on in any way he saw fit.

All that the core families saw was that money was coming in and it didn't look like there was any end to it.

However, the economy changed and the tribe no longer had a corner on the gaming market. Money was drying up. He was exposed for the decades of foolish business practices. That was his undoing.

After he squandered millions, on secret deals, the core families took him to the wood shed.

They wanted his flagrant foul-ups to stop.

The money wasn't coming in like it used to and they wanted him to start acting more responsible and most of all...discrete.

He must have assured them that he will recover from this shortfall and everything would return as it has been.

Booschor had probably already started his plan to take the Land Claims money and work a deal for a share in one of the proposed casinos, in Detroit.

He had to find a way to cover up the loss of millions and reverse the public relations nightmare he was experiencing. He wanted to come out smelling like a rose instead of a skunk.

What better way than to get the tribe involved with the proposed casinos in Detroit..

And, at the same time, he could satisfy his Tonky Trump ego by being a big time player in the gaming business.

The Bouschor Keepers kept him in office for an eighteen year run until a force greater than they could handle, ousted him as chairman.

It was his failures, in business and his flagrant abuses in office that ultimately sent him packing.

He had duped the Elders and jeopardized the financial future of the tribe.
ALL FOR HIS DIAMOND MINE.

But, in Bouschor style, he went out on one last lie with the 2.6 million dollar payout...

The Bouschor Keepers must have backed away from this now large liability. He was ousted as chairman.

The Bouschor Keepers fell back with their support but didn't exclude Cathy Abramson, BJ Hoffman, Lana Causley, Dennis McKelvie, Fred Paquin or Joe Eitrem. They would continue supporting these puppets for another four years, unless they prove to be liabilities, as well.

Fred Paquin and Lana Caulsey are struggling to keep their Board seat.

Most likely, they will fail to garner enough support during the general election. But, the "Bouschor Keepers" have been surprised by the cunning of the former chairman and it appears that they have allocated some support for his return to office.

Although it is a lesser position, he will get their support because he showed that he can still out maneuver the present administration.

A good example of that was his going to the CCC meeting at the last minute with a bus load of his supporters to take over the Constitutional Convention Committee with Causley.

He has used the appeals process to stall a final court ruling on his exit giveaway of millions.

He managed to influence the appellate court and get reinstated as a candidate. That kind of determination should get you something.

So, the "Bouschor Keepers" are back in the picture with their older but, much more street wise "yes" boy. It is also obvious that they have thrown their support behind Joe McCoy for Chairman. Although nobody ever heard of him, in tribal discussions before, he was able to get a sizable vote count.

This came from the "Bouschor Keepers" aka "Core Families".

Warning If the voters don't come out in force against the looming return of a dictatorship they will send this tribe right down the tubes.
